About

Informatics Engineering graduate from PUCP, Lima, Peru. I build full-stack web applications with React, Next.js, TypeScript, and Tailwind CSS — focused on performance, clean structure, and real-world features like authentication, task workflows, and team collaboration. Currently looking to grow as a frontend developer and contribute to production-grade products.

Education

Pontifical Catholic University of Peru — Informatics Engineer Mar 2016- Dec 2021

Featured Project

To Do List App
